Marketing had a great quarter.
The pipeline didn’t move.

ONE QUARTER, TWO REPORTS

Why it happens, and the fix →

REASON 1

The ads were told a form fill is a win.

So they find more people who fill forms.
Not more people who buy.

CAMPAIGN SETTINGS

Maximize conversions

Conversion goals

✓	Form submission Every form counts the same	Primary
✓	Ebook download Every form counts the same	Primary
◌	Sales-accepted lead Lives in the CRM	Not tracked
◌	Qualified opportunity Lives in the CRM	Not tracked

The platform optimizes for whatever you call a win.

Founder, GTMhub.ai

REASON 2

The CRM never says which leads became pipeline.

So the bidding keeps learning from the wrong signal.

AD PLATFORMS

Learning from
Every form fill

Leads go in

Outcomes never come back

CRM

SAME QUARTER

Head of RevOps, B2B SaaS	Opportunity
Student, downloaded the ebook	Disqualified
Agency, researching vendors	Not a fit
VP Finance, fintech	Opportunity

The platform counted all four the same.

Vijay Veerubhotla
Founder, GTMhub.ai

REASON 3

Reporting stops at the lead.

Nobody owns the step from lead to opportunity.

PAID MEDIA REPORT

CHANNEL	SPEND	LEADS	PIPELINE	REVENUE
Google Search			—	—
LinkedIn Ads			—	—
Meta			—	—

Not in the report

WHO OWNS IT

Marketing
Spend to lead

No one
Lead to opportunity

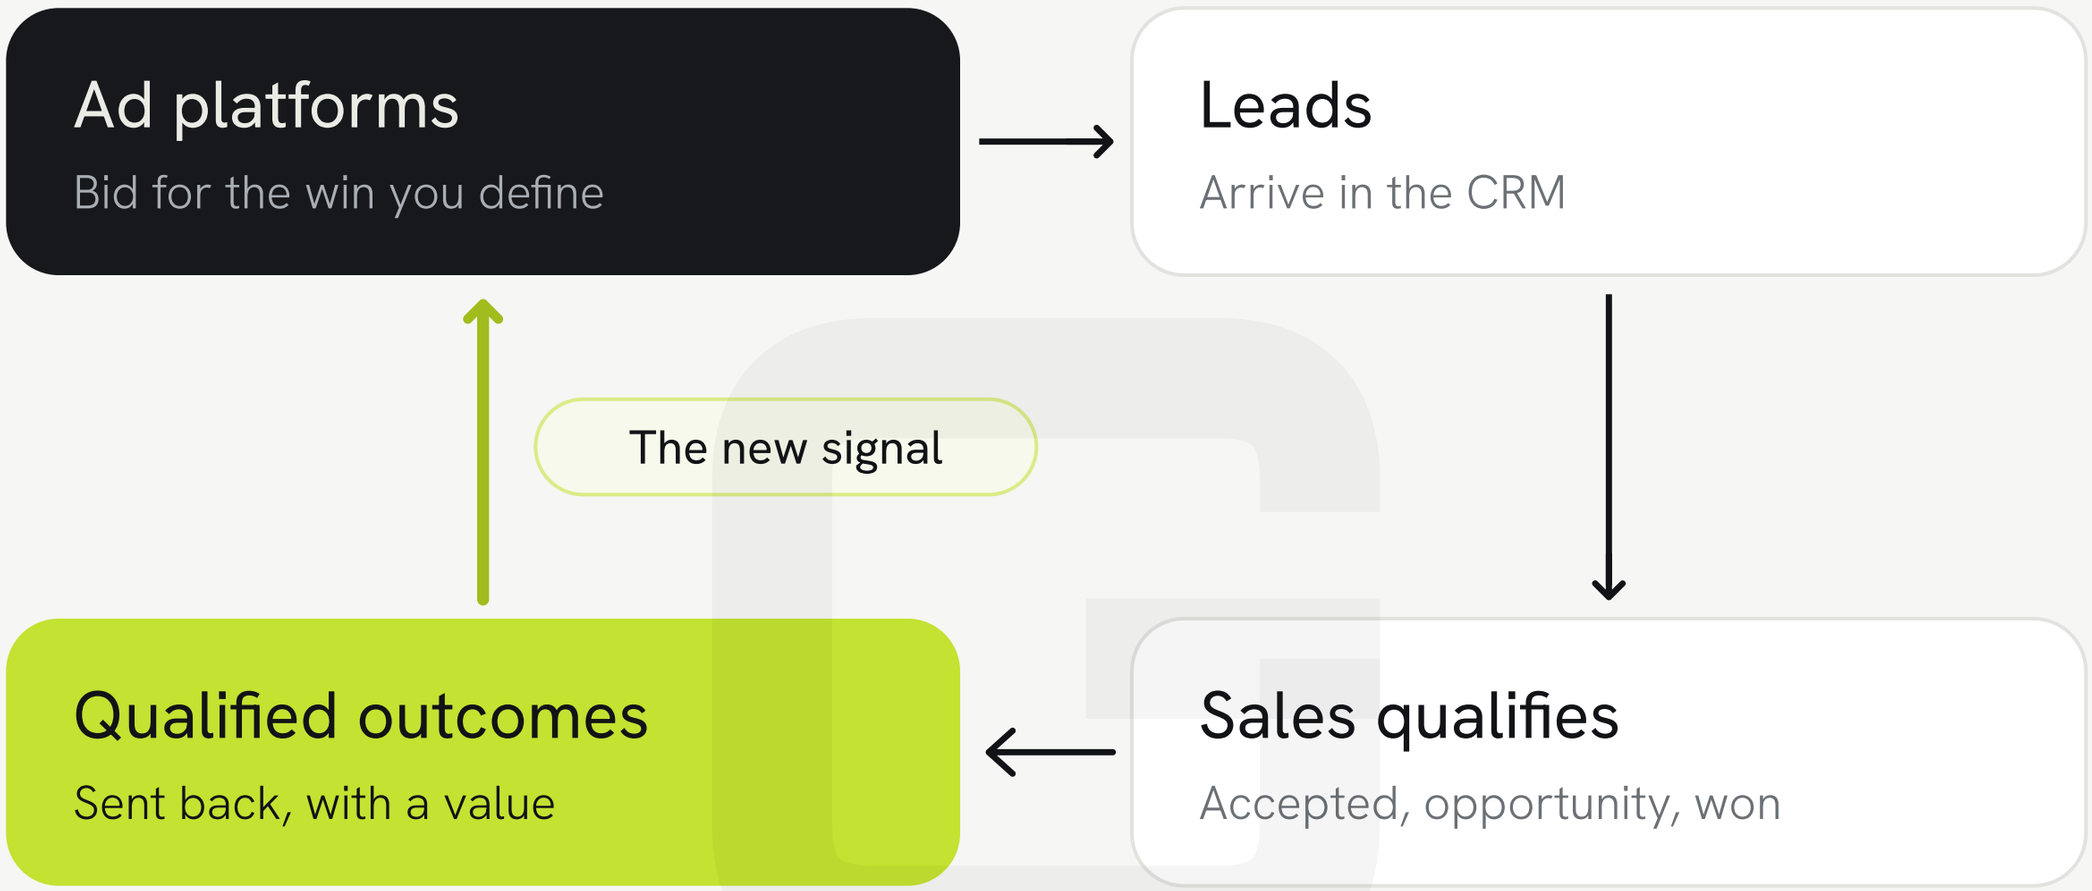

Sales
Opportunity to revenue

THE FIX

Change what counts as a win.

None of this needs new creative or a bigger budget.

- Agree with sales on what a qualified win is.
- Send each qualified outcome back, with its value.
- Report on pipeline and revenue, not leads.

VALUE-BASED BIDDING

Tell Google what each lead is worth.

So it bids for the leads worth most, not the most leads.

WHAT EACH STAGE IS WORTH

- Google Ads bidding: maximize conversion value — FROM YOUR CRM

- Google then goes after leads that look like your best deals.

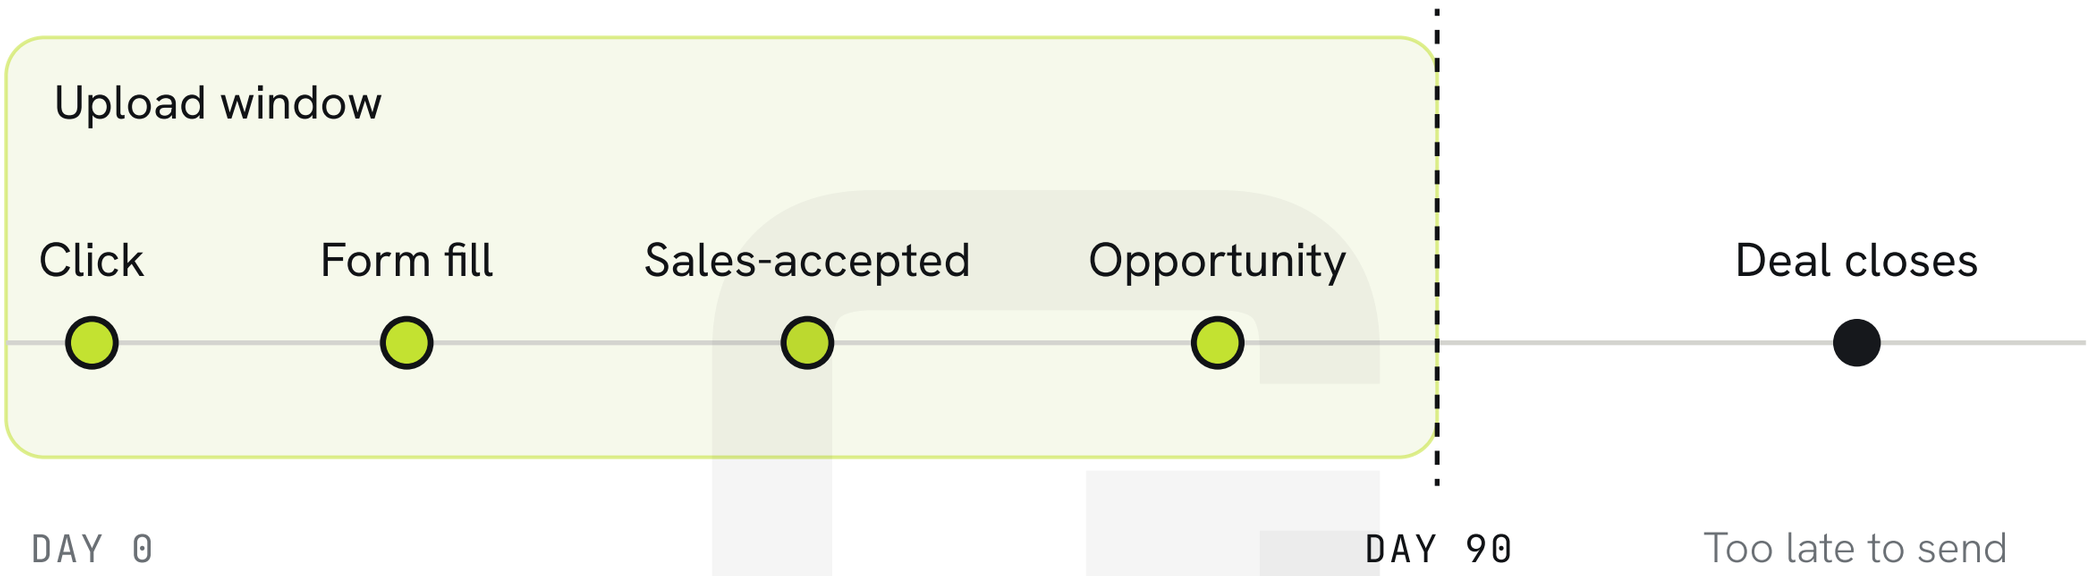

Vijay Veerubhotla
Founder, GTMhub.ai

THE CATCH

Google only waits
90 days after the click.

B2B deals often close later. So value goes in at the stages that land in time.

ONE DEAL, FROM CLICK TO CLOSE

A real deal value inside 90 days goes in as it is. The rest is modelled.

SQL VALUE

Average deal value
× SQL win rate

From closed-won deals in your CRM.
Refreshed as new deals close.

OPPORTUNITY VALUE

Average deal value
× opportunity win rate

From closed-won deals in your CRM.
Refreshed as new deals close.

AFTER THE FIX

Then the two reports tell the same story.

Leads and pipeline move together, and the board can see it.
